What we can do

The support we provide covers a wide range of areas, including:

- Housing advice and support to access suitable accommodation
- Advice on welfare benefits, debt and money management

- Access to financial assistance
- Mental and/or physical health
- Management of drug or alcohol problems
- How to find employment
- Employment – including work training and access to IT qualifications
- Social and community activities

The Outreach Team worked with one Veteran and his family after he was referred by the Joint Service Housing Advice Office. At this stage the Veteran, his wife and their two young children were facing homelessness. Stoll worked with him and his family to find a property that they could call home. In November, they moved into a 2 bed property in London, with a garden and are settling well into their new house.

Speaking of Stoll, he says: “My transition before Stoll had been quite stressful for me and my family. My wife has had to do everything because of my injury. Stoll are friendly and helpful and I’ve been so touched by the amount of effort and help we’ve had. I really didn’t think this could happen for me and my family, but now I’m very positive about what will come next for us.”
